Dear master,

I am writing to you because I found a camera floating in the bright blue sea and one of photo was your swimming. So if it ok if I ask you some question about the camera as it is your camera.

I was wondering if you are in the victorian times because the camera looks very old. Also there are different photos of different people. Behind you there are three boys, are they your parents?
Did you find the camera or did you throw it in the water. Also why did you take the photo? I think you took the photo

Well done, you have remembered the features of a letter.
Make sure you use a question mark at the end of a question.

because I think you took the picture because you wanted to remember your first camera

Please write back

15:00 writing a recount.

On Monday we got on the coach to go to Sir Harold Hillier gardens but then the coach driver got lost ~~then~~ we saw ^A this lady her name was ~~called~~ Sarah ~~then~~ we put our bags down and went to the toilet.

Next we learnt how tadpoles transform ^{to} a frog. ~~After that~~ we played a game to help us learn about frog survival. ~~Then we explored~~ the garden with all of the plants of the world. We learned about lots of different plants from different countries and their names.

A great start.

~~Next~~ we saw the biggest tree. ~~After that~~ ~~but~~ ~~at~~ lunch. They are so big that they have to make wheels and drive through the California trees. ~~Then~~ we went to wash our hands and go and get our packed lunch boxes out of our bags and sit on the floor and eat lunch.

~~Following lunch~~ ~~Moreover~~ we went into the trees and when we got into this forest garden we were asked to build a home for a habitat and ~~me~~ and my group were asked to build a home for a fox. ~~In the end~~ Sarah decided that we did not have dipping and Jacob and Sarah caught a beetle ~~and~~ I caught little fly's and green bugs that have sadly died.

~~A~~ ~~After that~~ we went to the toilet ~~and~~ I would like to go there again ~~because~~ ~~I enjoyed~~ ~~exploring~~ and going through the bambo trees and I also liked it when you saw fish in a much bigger pond than the one were Jacob caught a beetle. I think it learnt a lot at Sir Harold Hillier gardens. ~~On the way back~~ ~~to~~ luckily ~~the~~ ~~bus~~ coach driver didn't get lost and we arrived at the ladies.

✓ Great connectors.

LT: To ~~us~~ write an introduction to hook in the reader

Giving Maria one last smile, Felix wished her goodnight and strolled back to his cabin, ready for a good night's sleep. Looking out at the sunset, Maria didn't hear the mysterious splashing of oars in the gentle, lapping waves. Nor the mysterious whispers of a strange language. Nor the scuffling footsteps of the natives. And they were getting closer. And closer.

Without warning, a strong hand clamped over ~~A~~ Maria's mouth muffling her strangled cry. Desperately looking around for help, she saw that she was surrounded by natives. There was no escape. Muscular arms dragged her over the hand rails and into a small sailing boat, which sped off towards the island.

Felix heard the splashing oars and pounding footsteps and sprinted ~~was~~ out onto the deck. He ~~couldn't~~ ~~let~~ ~~the~~ ~~natives~~ wondered what ~~it~~ could have happened. Looking around the boat, he saw three wooden beads. The natives had been here. Realising that Maria was gone, he rushed to alert ~~the~~ Captain Caspar. Within minutes, a team of men had set off in quick pursuit of.

After a hour later, Jack and his men saw Kong and Ann clinging to his cable. Quickly, Jack and his men rushed to the long cable to get Ann back. When they reached the top, Jack and his men made a trap which Kong and Ann went to get dinner. When they got back, Jack chose the signal. Then the net dropped ~~at~~ on Kong. Would it make sense ending this sentence with then?

A couple of seconds later, Kong tried to rise the net but it was too heavy. Suddenly Jack's hook pulled a little hole in the net with his teeth and grabbed Ann. They quickly ran out side but his men was still in there. Then Kong threw them out side and off the cliff. After that, Jack and Ann ran as fast as they could to get to the edge of the cliff.

Fantastic sentence starts again.

to build tension in our writing.

Suddenly, they stopped because they heard something coming through the bushes. Once the creature stopped, the men could see red beady eyes glaring at them. It had sharp teeth and a language stuffed like a worm. As the creature creaked, Kong jumped from the trees then onto the monster.

As they were fitting, Jack and his men managed to take but the snake hit him with its large tail. Then Jack ran back then Kong grabbed its neck and grazed it then threw it four away so it will never be seen again.
